DANCES WITH A DIFFERENCE

A varied collection of dances - some fairly easy, some fairly difficult - but all, I hope, with something a little different. Each dance has its own tune, though in many cases other tunes can be substituted.

I have written out the instructions as I would call them, rather than using Sharp's precise but wordy style. Unless otherwise stated, each section is eight bars long. A full stop marks the end of a four-bar phrase; a semicolon marks the end of a two-bar phrase.
